SCHOOL FACILITIES PLANNING
 A Guide to Laws and Procedures for Funding, Siting, Design, and Construction

School Facilities Planning offers a thorough discussion of laws and regulations that govern planning, funding, siting, design, and construction of educational facilities in California ♦ A single-source reference with a comprehensive overview of the field, this book will guide the reader chronologically through every stage of school facilities planning—from initial conception through construction.

An invaluable tool for planners, consultants, and other school facilities professionals who provide services in the field

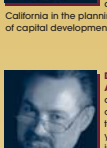

Maureen F. Gorsen was appointed Director of California's Department of Toxic Substances Control in December 2005 by Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger. Prior to that Ms. Gorsen served as Deputy Secretary and General Counsel for the California Environmental Protection Agency. She is a former partner at Weston, Beneshoff, Rochefort, Rubalcava & MacCulish, LLP, in Los Angeles, where she represented school districts, public agencies, and private developers with a focus on environmental compliance and land use counseling.

Kevin Wilkeson, AIA, is a Managing Principal and Board Chairman of HMC Architects, a full-service architecture practice that specializes in the planning and design of educational facilities.

G. Christian Roux is a partner at Weston, Beneshoff, Rochefort, Rubalcava & MacCulish, LLP, in Los Angeles, where he represents public owners, including school districts, in connection with substantial capital improvement projects.

Thomas M. Cavanagh is the managing director of School Advisors in Ontario (Inland Empire), a subsidiary company to HMC Architects. He assists school districts throughout California in the planning and financing of capital development projects.

Dennis L. Dunston, AIA, RFP, a principal at the Sacramento office of HMC Architects, has over 18 years of experience in design and construction of educational facilities.
